Born:

Richmond, England

Profile: Fletch originally came from Harchester Uniteds youth-set-up a number of years ago. During 1996/97, Fletch scored many goals and important ones which helped get Harchester promoted to the Premiership after finishing 2nd in Division 1. An excellent FA Cup run was no distraction either. The following year brought shame to Fletch and his loyal army of followers. After performing well for a number of months, his drugs sample tested positive and he was banned by the club for 4 months. He made his return in the final game of the season and he scored the goal which kept Harchester up.

1999 finally brought major success to Fletch as a number of brilliant performances by him and the team took Harchester to it's first ever FA Cup Final. Two goals by Luis Amor Rodriguez helped Harchester to win the game 2-1 over Manchester United, but the day was marred by tragedy as Harchester captain John Black was shot dead. Fletch instantly left the club for the Spanish Island of Mallorca.

Real Mallorca brought an unhappy time for Fletch, he was left on the bench for most of his duration at the club and after being part of the side to knock Harchester out of the UEFA Cup, he resigned for them the next day.

A couple of months after signing for Harchester, he broke his jaw and was unavailable for the last game of the season, luckily, Harchester managed to stay up and win without him.

This season, Fletch was imprisoned over Christmas for a crime he didn't commit, when he was released and was back playing, he broke his arm, but now things seem to be fine. Before the two incidents, Fletch put in performances that were worthy of him getting a place in England World Cup squad, but now, Fletch still hopes for that call...
